

STONY BROOK UNIVERSITY PRESENTS

Addiction Incorporated

A documentary about the tobacco companies' commitment to addicting the human brain and how the world came to know about it.

“Straight-shooting, hard-hitting and fuming with contempt for the tobacco industry...”

— New York Times Critics Pick

---

Wednesday, November 6, 2013

Two Screenings:

12:15 pm

Health Sciences Tower, Level 3, Lecture Hall 5

and

6 pm

Student Activities Center Auditorium

Free and Open to the Public. A Q&A with Myron Levin Will Follow Each Screening.

---

Myron Levin, who was a consultant for “Addiction Incorporated” and also appears in the film, founded the online nonprofit publication FairWarning after more than 20 years as a staff writer for the Los Angeles Times. He has won numerous awards for his investigations of health and safety matters.

---

Sponsored by Healthier U, Stony Brook University's Wellness in the Workplace initiative.

For information or a disability-related accommodation, please email us at HealthierU@stonybrook.edu or call (631) 632-2945.

Stony Brook University