

As part of the Graduate School's "Building Graduate Communities Initiative" the Program in Public Health presents:

Youth and Gang Violence As A Public Health Issue.

Presented by Dr. Aldustus E. Jordan

Dr. Jordan is Associate Dean for Student Affairs in the Stony Brook University School of Medicine and Affiliated Clinical Associate Professor in the university's Program in Public Health. He is also Director of the Center for Public Health and Health Policy Research. He has been a consultant and lecturer on youth and gang violence for over 30 years in schools, community-based youth agencies, and law enforcement. His talk will focus on the causes, societal impact, and social policy around gang prevention and intervention from a public health perspective.

Thursday, April 16th 4:00PM, HSC Level 2 Room 408 (SHTM Large Conference Room). Refreshments will be served.
